

COX SEES PUBLIC DEFIED AT CAPITOL

Newberry and Harvey Cases
Instanted as High-Handed
G. O. P. Methods.

By the Associated Press.
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 19.—James M. Cox, democratic candidate for the presidency in 1920, speaking as the honor guest of Michigan democrats at their advisory convention last night, described the seating of Senator Truman H. Newberry, republican, Michigan, as a "defiance of the nation's sense of decency." Then he recounted acts of the present administration which he termed "further defiance of public opinion."

"Newberry," he said, "would not have been seated except for the assistance of the administration. It is supporting every senator who voted for him. The seating of Newberry was in defiance of public sentiment and the nation's sense of decency."

Defiance of Public Will.
"Run through a list of the policies of the administration and we find an underlying defiance of public will, but deference to the old guard of the republican party."
"The appointment of George Harvey was in defiance of public opinion, and his retention, because of his attitude toward American soldiers and gold-star mothers was a further defiance. The present administration is determined to enact a tariff law which is opposed by every one but the old guard and in behalf of those who were contributors to the republican campaign fund. That is another defiance."

Accounting Is Demanded.
"I wish to take issue with Messrs. Hughes, Hoover, Taft, Root and Lowell on the question of defiance of proprieties. Three of these gentlemen are lawyers and know that when, in their practice, they are entrusted with a trust involving funds there must be an accounting. In the campaign of 1920 hundreds of thousands of voters gave them votes in trust, upon their representation that we would go into the league of nations. It is time for an accounting. If these gentlemen have been deceived by the administration they should say so. If the administration has something in contemplated policy which will match its precommitments, it should confide in its followers."

Judge Cordell Hull, national democratic chairman, attended the banquet and will address the convention tomorrow.

SHORTAGE OF LABOR.

Indiana Mills Put Out "Help Wanted" Signs for First Time.

HAMMOND, Ind., April 19.—Scarcity of labor in the steel mills and big factories of the Calumet region was indicated today for the first time since the war. "Help wanted" placards appeared on the gates at a number of plants.

Return of foreigners to the homeland during the recent industrial depression and the minimum wage scale of 23 cents an hour are ascribed as partial causes for the present shortage of laborers.

Coal was first mined in the United States at Mauch Chunk, Pa., in 1866.
